

MAMA BROWN

I know but I'm so excited; oh how I wish your daddy was here. Let's go out and celebrate!

SHERMAN

I'll be there in a second mama, I want to tell Daisy congratulations.

MAMA BROWN

Wooooo Daisy. Okay you go and talk to my future daughter-in-law.

SHERMAN

Cut it out mama!

MAMA BROWN

Sherman and Daisy sitting in the tree k-i-s-s-i-n-g.

Mama Brown exits.

DAISY

Congratulations Sherman, we did it!!

SHERMAN

We made it!

DAISY

This is the best day of our life and in a few months we're going to be freshmen partying it up in college.

SHERMAN

Maybe.

DAISY

You still haven't got your acceptance letter yet? Don't worry my friend told me that they still send them out over the summer. You had better grades than me, I know you'll get accepted.

MAMA BROWN

Sherman!! Sherman, you and Daisy get close by each other. I want to take a picture of you two. This is my new one step Polaroid. The picture just pops out.

SHERMAN

Mama please stop!! I'm going to the car.

Sherman exits.

MAMA BROWN

Sherman, trust me you'll want to remember this day (pulls out picture from camera) They look so cute.
